

Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

I heard one old-timer remark yesterday that he had been in this area for 25 years and that this fall was the first time that he had seen farming operations open up a sale of beans, etc., at a profit. Well, maybe he has something there. We missed the hurricane. The farmers are happy over the prices which have prevailed for the past couple of weeks.

Which all means that within a few weeks everybody should start to catch up a lot of that summer slack.

Another football game tonight on LaRif Field. The Pierce outfit comes to Pahokee to meet Coach Frank Hobson's Blue Devils. The boys seem to have fully recuperated from their 44-0 drubbing at the hands of Fort Lauderdale last Thursday night. The game tonight should be a close one because Fort Pierce always furnishes tough opposition for any Pahokee team.

A week from tomorrow morning the Florida National Bank at Belle Glade will throw open its doors for business. This will be the third banking institution in operation on the Lake. There is also Robert Stewart's First Bank of Pahokee and Jeff Caffery's Bank of Pahokee—old substantial institutions, previously in operation.

Next week the schools will celebrate the opening of the school year. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends and patrons of the schools to visit the work displays which will be made by the students.

Interesting talks are being planned at chapel periods during the week. The first of these will be the "Parent-Teacher" school which will be held on the first day of the week in order that parents may become familiar with the intricate workings of school life.

A handful of Pahokee citizens participated in the special charter election held on Tuesday of this week. A few more than 100-out of a potential 1,000 or more took part in the election. Four of the five proposed amendments were defeated by the voters.

The members of the city council proposed the amendments thinking that the progress of Pahokee could be enhanced by their passage. Evidently the handful of voters who showed up and voted thought the polls tonight otherwise, since four of the five amendments were defeated by a landslide.

Special Services Held For Infants

Special baptismal services for infants was conducted at the Pahokee Methodist church Sunday morning during the worship hour by the pastor, Rev. E. W. Waring. Rev. Statham used for the baptismal water a hand carved Italian alabaster bowl made by a prisoner in a Mexican mine. The bowl had been a heirloom in Mrs. Statham's family for many years.

The babies baptized were: Nancy Lee Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas; Henry Earl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips; Judith Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Cunningham; Harry Kenneth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McIntosh; and Mrs. Waring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waring.

Former Glades County Agent Dead

Grover C. Hodge, 50, former county agent of Glades county, died suddenly last Wednesday afternoon at his home in Ft. Lauderdale. He was the brother of the late H. A. Himes at Alachua. Mrs. Hodge and her son, Phillip, were with him at the time.

Mr. Hodge had attended sessions of the annual state agents' conference during the past few days. He was on his way home for dinner. He was stricken shortly after arriving and died a few minutes later. "More News Democrat."

NEW DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vandergift, Jr., announce the birth of a daughter, Mrs. E. W. Waring, at the Memorial hospital on October 27.

Plans Made, Open Belle Glade Bank Saturday, Nov. 15

Scarbore Building To Be Used Until The New Structure Is Ready

The third banking institution on the shores of Lake Okechobee will be open and ready for business on the morning of November 15, it was announced in Belle Glade this week. The Florida National Bank at Belle Glade will swing open its doors for business a week from tomorrow in temporary headquarters where the Scarboro tenement is now located. Other banks on Lake Okechobee are located at Pahokee—The Bank of Pahokee—and at Clewiston—The First Bank of Clewiston.

A lot near the Alford plant in Belle Glade has been purchased by the new banking concern for a permanent home but alterations in the original plans were necessary before the building can be erected. However, the revised plans are ready and bids for construction have been received within the next few days, it was announced.

The first Bank of Clewiston, president of the Florida Bank and Trust there, will be one of the directors of the Belle Glade bank. Other directors will include: H. L. Hanes, another director of the Florida Bank and Trust; D. S. Campbell, vice president of the Florida National Bank and Trust Company at Miami; and L. A. Adams, president of the Florida National Bank and Trust Company at Miami. The latter will serve as president of the Belle Glade bank.

Carnival Proves A Grand Success

The Pahokee "Parent-Teacher" association held a most successful carnival Friday night at the American Legion grounds. Many children attended in costume. The high school girls presented a very entertaining minstrel show under the direction of Miss Anita McNeill. In the evening, Charles "Red" Pen' Bardsley, former winner of the botany contest race, The Citrus State Fair, was the guest of honor. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Bardsley, and his children. The carnival was a grand success and the American Legion grounds were filled with children and their parents.

The Lord and Lady attendants were the runners-up in the king and queen contest which was sponsored by the Mothers' club and which included Frank Rozelle, Jr., Payne Jackson, Jack Crews, Sara Payne, and Miss Anita McNeill. The court announced and Joan McPartly and Phyllis Bell were crowned. On the program were Patryl Bell, Joan McPartly, Phyllis Bell, Shirley Walton, and Miss Frances Simmons.

The prize winners were Bobby Schroder, Thomas Elliott, Jr., Joan Erler, and Carolyn Ann Snyder. In the parade prizes were awarded to Gerald Berry, Carolyn Ann Snyder, and Payne Jackson.

BPWC Met In Pahokee Tuesday

The Everglades Business and Professional Woman's club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wida Morgan in Pahokee to make plans for a two-benefit night, a rummage sale and a dance which will be given in the near future.

The president, Mrs. Wida Morgan, announced that the club would be hostess for the seventh district meeting of the BPWC at Miami Sunday.

Mrs. Wida Morgan, chairman of the Pahokee Civilian Defense Council, will speak at the social meeting, which will be held at Mrs. Kate Cross in Pahokee, November 18.

Legion Auxiliary Formulates Plans

The Pahokee American Legion Auxiliary met with Mrs. Carmen Salvatore this week to formulate plans for the coming year. The Auxiliary will hold its first meeting on Monday, November 11, at 8 o'clock. The Auxiliary will be held in the Legion building. The Auxiliary will be held in the Legion building. The Auxiliary will be held in the Legion building.

Fort Pierce Plays Pahokee 11 Tonite

Coach Frank Hobson will send a rejuvenated Blue Devil eleven into battle with Fort Pierce tonight in the football aggregation representing Fort Pierce high school. The Blue Devils have received a bye from their previous game, a 44-0 defeat last Thursday night by Fort Lauderdale. This defeat was the most lopsided in the history of the school.

Here are the starting line-up for tonight's game:

| Pahokee | Pos. | Fort Pierce |

Majority of Beans Moved By Truck To Marts During Week

104 Trucks and 36 Rail Cars Move During Seven Day Period

A majority of the green snap beans moved from the Lake Okechobee farming region during the past seven day period—Thursday through Wednesday—were rolled on trucks. There were 36 cars out on rails during this period and 104 trucks—with each truck carrying the equivalent of a carload. Total for the period would amount to 142 carloads.

Prices have been such during the past week that growers have had wide smiles on their faces. Beans have brought fancy prices as high as $3.85 per hamper and any grower can show an excellent profit at such prices.

The movement during the past week was the heaviest of the season and should continue to get heavier as the season progresses.

Soil Expert Talks To Rotates

W. L. Mott, soil expert with the U. S. Sugar Corp., was the guest speaker at the Pahokee Rotary club yesterday noon. Mr. Mott showed colored slides of soil he had studied on the shores of Lake Okechobee. Since every member of the club does direct work in the field, the speaker's address was thoroughly enjoyed.

BANKRUPTCY DEFINED

"Dad, tell me, what does bankruptcy mean?"
"Bankruptcy, my boy, is when you put your money in your pocket and let your creditors take your coat."—Oklahoma Telegram.

ANY OLD DIAMONDS TODAY?

There may come a time when Uncle Sam will be asked for old diamonds, as well as old aluminum ware.
Defense industries use diamonds, the hardest known mineral, and the jewels of the corundum family, such as rubies, sapphires, emeralds, and garnets, which are pretty hard too, for bearings in precision instruments.
More than 80,000,000 industrial jewels were imported in 1940.—A.P.I. Bulletin.

SOCIAL CENTER

Though London has had no violent air raids for many weeks, the word is that many people continue to spend their nights in the shelters. In some of the shelters, which are built in the basements of their old houses, 35 per cent of their capacity is filled nightly, though there is no danger outside.

During the past year people grew accustomed to this nightly assembly in the underground dungeons. They learned to gnose one another; there were games organized, and a sort of community life appeared in the better dugouts. When danger temporarily passed, many of them missed their old diversions. So back they went again, driven not by danger but by desire of accustomed association. Will it seem strange to hear the war is over to go each night to their homes and sit quietly alone?—NEA Editorial.

DISCOVERIES

Somer or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, and that it takes a sensitive soul—that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously.

He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about.

He learns that back-passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays.

He learns that the gang is no harder to get along with in one place than another and that "getting along" depends about 85% on his own behavior.—Atlantic Reitor.

WILL THEY EVER LEARN?

Accidents in traffic industry, on the farms and in the home, are taking a greater toll of human life in America annually than is being lost in the present war by Great Britain (and Florida is contributing its share of these accidents and fatalities).

A national safety congress held in Chicago recently, which I attended, brought together more than ten thousand persons for the purpose of formulating, accentuating, and intensifying safety measures and plans for the conservation of human life, method Asker Frank, director of the Florida safety council, recently.

Listening to a talk by Secretary Knox in Chicago, we were amazed at the millions of man hours lost due to accidents. If you are in a hospital, injured, crippled, it makes no difference how you received the accident.

The first six months of this year show that traffic accidents are up 18 per cent. Industrial accidents about eight per cent, and home deaths more than 10 per cent. Thousands of these accidents are occurring after the whistle blows in traffic. Loose rugs, bad shoes, make-shifts, heating arrangements, are causing thousands of home accidents. The farmer, being his own safety engineer, is also making mistakes, despite the fact that Congress has been busy carrying on a safety on the farm program.

If there ever was a time when human life should be conserved, it is now; for not only does your family need you, but the nation needs you in its defense program. Now is the time for heads to think clearly and act wisely. Keep your mind on what you are doing, and you will do it safely.—Winter Haven Herald.

SAME BOAT

The recent announcement of a plastic automobile suggests that the time may not be far distant when cars will be made entirely of products grown on the farm. When that happens, harvest time may come to mean a bumper crop of limousines.

The idea is not so fanciful as it might at first appear, for already many farm products are changed into industrial articles. Through the magic of research casein from milk becomes wool and also a plastic material. Corn is used in making glycerine and dry ice, cornstarch in making paper. Sugarcane goes into building boards, soy beans into paint, enamel, and linoleum. One large chemical company alone buys 16 million pounds of cotton, 36 million pounds of cotton lint, and 36 million bushels of corn from farmers each year. As industrial research finds new uses for farm crops, industry will depend more and more on agriculture as a source of raw materials.

And agriculture, in turn, will depend on industry for more inventions like radios, telephones, and labor-saving machinery that have made the farm a much pleasanter place to live than it was a generation or two ago.

Because the two groups provide markets for each other's products, the prosperity of the one depends on the prosperity of the other. Past experience has shown that when industry is making money, agriculture is making money, too.

Facts like these prove that here in America, we've all got a stake in each other's future. We may work in different parts of the country at different jobs. We may have different likes and dislikes. We may be divided into various groups—industrial employees, farmers, doctors, lawyers—but in the long run we're all in the same boat.

And today we've all got to work together to solve our common problems. We've got to work together to insure our continued prosperity in the years to come.—Okeechobee News.

PIE COUNTER IN REVERSE

All those people falling out of political plum trees these days are not being pushed. No indeed. Some of them are jumping in. No less an authority on the subject than the International City Managers' association reveals that many municipalities face a serious problem in the scramble of city employees for better salaries defense jobs.

In contrast to that good old 100 per cent American political custom of pushing up to the pie counter, such scattered cities as Dayton, O., Kansas City, Mo., and Denver, N. C., reports the defense industries are raiding their city halls with salary offers as much as three times greater than the municipal checks.

This may be a pinch on the cities but it may also relieve unemployment among ward heelers, sidewalk statesmen, and precinct patriots who have been getting the boot heavily and with regularity in the better governed communities.—NEA Editorial.

SCIENCE BAFFLED

Science consists largely in trying to find reasonable explanations for things and events, but there are some things which no scientist can explain. Here, for instance, are two occurrences which so far have baffled all explanation.

One is that lions, which have always hitherto been solitary animals, hunting only with their mates, have lately, everywhere, become gregarious and now hunt in packs. Anyone may bowse this for himself in the game reserve.

The other fact is even more baffling. Musk is a plant which for centuries was highly valued on account of its strong, fragrant, and lasting odor. In the year when the great war broke out it suddenly lost its perfume. Whether the war had anything to do with it or not, musk lost its fragrance in 1914. Yet, in one part of the world, or one district, but everywhere, musk is now an odorless plant; the rising generation does not know what its scent was like. Extensive search has been carried on to find even one plant of musk which is still scented, but in vain. All over the world—or, at least, wherever musk was grown—in that particular year its perfume went at a breath. Why?—and how?—Cape Times (Johannesburg, S. Africa).

KNAPSACK NUTRITION

In the AEP the American soldier with his corned beef and hard tack field ration had a big edge on the Britisher's bully beef and the Frenchman's monkey meat. But the modern American field ration leaves even corned beef far behind.

The streamlined ration of U. S. field ration consists of two small cans for every meal. For each day the American defense soldier is out of touch with his food kitchen he has a can of meat and vegetable hash, one of meat and vegetable stew, and a third of meat and vegetables. That's for the main dish and it's up to him which he eats for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Then he has three other cans, each of which contains, soluble coffee, sugar, crackers, and a piece of chocolate.

Each day's field ration contains 4,500 calories and all the necessary proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals, and vitamins. A whole battery of chemists has decided all the requirements it must meet and then big food factories like Stokely Bros. & Co., and the National Biscuit company filled the bill. Stokely even boasts that one quality was added voluntarily—eye appeal. That means the food not only is good and tastes good, but it looks good.—St. Petersburg Times.

Sailors serving on the newest of Uncle Sam's ships eat from stainless steel trays with compartments to hold china, glassware, and the various foods of the meal. These dishes and trays are washed in automatic dishwashers and rinsed at extremely high temperature to assure complete sanitation.

A committee of more than twenty food experts has been appointed to create a new official Navy cook book. Suggested recipes are tested on groups of civilian athletes before being approved for use in the United States Navy.

FULLER'S FULMINATIONS

by Fuller Warren

For the past two weeks I've been presenting some figures and facts about health conditions in Florida. Taken from the records of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Florida State Board of Health. This week I am offering some health data collected at random.

Several days ago it was revealed to the amazement of many that 1,000,000 of the 2,000,000 young men examined for the army had been rejected because of defective health. But the most amazing and appalling feature of this press release was the statement that 200,000 of these rejected million young men were suffering with a curable disease.

The only heartening and encouraging thing about this astounding disclosure was the announcement of President Roosevelt that the government was going to get busy immediately and start curing these 200,000 young men.

I won't help but have this somber reflection: If that many physically defective show up among young men of military age, how high must the percentage be among people of other ages, who presumably are more susceptible to disease?

Philip Wylie, a celebrated author and frequent contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, recently wrote a startling expose of health conditions in Florida, a part of which is as follows:

"The draft examinations showed that Florida stood at the very bottom of the list of percentage of general diseases in the entire country—white and negro. Florida is near that position in its tuberculosis rate. Health departments of Northern states are turning on an alarmed eye in our direction because of the numbers of imbecile fever cases reported by us to the north each year. That I discovered myself. In our two-hour unwritten history, is the story of a recent dengue fever epidemic that would astound the world because of its scope, and because of its secrecy, and because of the fact that dengue is carried by the same mosquito as yellow fever. Yellow fever is still a threat that unpublicized dengue epidemic was a direct rehearsal for death. A report of a leading health group in the nation points out that there are hundreds of thousands of cases of malaria and many, many annual malaria deaths, in the regions to the north of Miami, and that the innocent tourists who motor Miamiward through the belt, sleeping in un-aerated cabins, driving with open windows, are on occasion caught the disease."

Correction: My good friend, Mr. B. F. Williamson, brought to my attention that my last article on the health situation in Florida contained a statement that "waxer deaths increased from 1931 to 1938 to 172."

—men trained in the great medical schools of the nation—through night-long stories about sickness and death in Miami—stories so disgusting, so creepy, so shameful, so terrifying, that, if they saw the fight of day in the more advanced North, the roads leading to our town would be empty, come winter. The doctors cannot talk. Et cetera. But the writers of America can talk—and the Miami story is a magnificent horror story—from the writer's standpoint.

"All the publicity, all the advertising, all the fine hotels and apartment houses, all the boulevards and skyscrapers and parks and benches and race tracks and night clubs and movie theatres would be in vain by the publication of the truth about us. The sick idea that the sun is our antiseptic and that in consequence we need no modern health program has blinded many men, resulting with the curable diseases of our country."

"The great plague spread first in India, South Asia, Africa, the south Pacific islands where there is no sun. The tropics are not healthful. On the contrary, they may include a few minor Northern diseases, but they are prelude to special hazards of their own—different diseases—violent, dramatic, hideous, and very numerous. Many of those diseases exist here."

"I believe that this is the psychological moment for Miami to wake up."

All this adds up to the fact that our state government has not yet begun putting more accent and emphasis on developing health and preventing disease. Our government has been diligent in catching criminals; it must become diligent in catching germs. It has been building better roads for two decades; it must begin building better human bodies with an enlarged, statewide, adequately financed health program.

There is a certain amount of bookworm in Miami even among school children, and the white rate is about double the negro. That, however, stupefying affliction of parasites is easily cured, but we have never attacked it as any twentieth century population should and as we should. Our parks and tangled vacant lots, our piers and canal banks swarm with rats. Occasionally, in Miami, an upstartling white citizen dies of typhus fever. Little is said; nothing done. And if the real plague ever rode the backs of these rats, a swath as wide as we could cut down. What politician, what anti-vice crusader, what uniformed booster can guarantee that a case of real plague is not at this instant en route to Miami from Cuba, from the West Indies, on a smuggled alien or a refugee?"

"A research association cited ample evidence of several intestinal parasites among enteritis, dysentery, and so on. This authoritative society says only, in its latest report, that no facts can be given, only an assurance that the maladies are common because Florida has never made an effort to find out how really sick it is. We call impetuous Florida sores and shrug it off. We don't tell the tourists about our material death rate, or the infants who perish of contagions of diarrhea in our slummy hospitals. In town, the poor people die on the feet in scrofulous boils, three a day, sometimes, because we haven't hospital beds for them. Our back country is even sicker. There are many and dirt dotted; local with laughingly tell us—from the north that our towns will be lucky, and their sons will be crackers—but, maybe, that only means that by the third generation our offspring will be infected with so many of Florida's preventable diseases that they will have lost their health and mental vigor."

I suppose everybody knows, more or less, that our city hospital is suitable for the scenery in a Boris Karloff horror movie. Dr. Morris Fishbein shocked a few citizens by pointing out that conditions in some wards were 'pre-Civil war.' But doctors have a job which keeps them publicly silent, save for a dig or two, like Fishbein's. In Miami, scores of well-trained, modern doctors have had to wash their hands of public health, because the politicians, backed by inertia, fear reaction, and by their suicidal ignorance, have refused to improve the shambles one iota. I've listened to these men in 1935." The statement should have been that the cancer deaths increased from 1931 to 1938 to 1725 in 1938. I regret this error, and I am grateful to Mr. Williamson for having brought this to my attention.

Surplus Cabbage To Be Canned

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 6.—An outlet for surplus cabbage raised by farmers in the Palatka area has been provided through an arrangement made by the state farmers' market with the Mount Airy Canning Co. of Mount Airy, N. C., according to an announcement made by William L. Wilson, director of state markets.

The Mount Airy Canning Co. will use the citrus packing house at the Palatka state farmers' market as a warehouse plant this year. Wilson said, and the state market will act as its agent in contracting with farmers for their surplus cabbage.

This company tried out a similar plan year before last and it worked very successfully for both the company and the farmers. Plans for this year contemplate the canning of sauerkraut at Palatka if the necessary machinery can be secured. However, if the canning machinery cannot be obtained, the sauerkraut will be packed in barrels and shipped to the North Carolina plant for canning.

"I believe that this is the psychological moment for Miami to wake up."

All this adds up to the fact that our state government has not yet begun putting more accent and emphasis on developing health and preventing disease. Our government has been diligent in catching criminals; it must become diligent in catching germs. It has been building better roads for two decades; it must begin building better human bodies with an enlarged, statewide, adequately financed health program.

GIVE YOUR CAR HIGH ANTI-KNOCK IN BOTH SPEED RANGES

Don't you find that you drive your car mainly in the two speed ranges symbolized by these boats? You use the low speed range in traffic and the high speed range on the open road. Therefore for knockless driving, you need a gasoline that gives high anti-knock in both these speed ranges—not in just one.

Sinclair H-C Gasoline gives you this Double-Range Anti-Knock. The reason is that H-C goes through two special processes in the course of refining. Ask your nearby Sinclair Dealer for a tankful of Sinclair H-C Gasoline today. It gives you Double-Range Anti-Knock, yet sells at the price of regular grade.

$100 Tax Where Dancing Is Permitted

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6. — An occupational tax of $100 must be paid by any establishment where dancing is permitted, regardless of whether a charge is made for the dancing or not, according to a recent ruling of the Florida supreme court.

The court ruled "The 1941 state may and does require the operator of a place for profit to pay the same separate license tax for merely permitting dancing. . . the music and dancing add to the attractions at the place to enhance the profits from the serving of meals."

AT THE THEATRES

CAROL BRUCE, STAGE STAR, IN FIRST FILM
Carol Bruce, who won overnight fame on the Broadway stage, makes her screen debut in "The Woman Is Mine," showing Sunday and Monday, November 9 and 10, at the Everglades, and Tuesday, November 11, at the Prince.

BUMSTEAD, HIGH-HAT THE 400!
The Bumsteads go high-hat. . . to hit a new high in hilarity! They are strictly upper class. . . when it comes to laughs! Blondie joins the Four Hundred. . . to give you a thousand happy moments! The social whirl has America's most beloved family in a dither. . . the neighbors in a rage. . . and you in stitches! But "Blondie in Society" writes the funniest chapter yet in the high laugh-packed story of your favorite family, and it's by far the best of all the "Blondies" with Penny Singleton in the title role. Arthur Lake appearing as Dagwood, and Larry

Simms again to be seen as Baby Dumpling.

MARRIED LOVE
They're bride and groom in hilarious "Father Takes a Wife," in which co-stars Adolphe Menjou and Gloria Swanson. Showing on Wednesday and Thursday, November 12 and 13, at the Everglades, and Friday, November 14, at the Prince.

HILARIOUS TWIST IN MENJOU-SWANSON HIT
Reversing the usual theme of parental objections to the marriage of their children, "Father Takes a Wife" deals with a very convenient son's horrified opposition to his playboy father's wedding plans. Adolphe Menjou plays the role of the father and Gloria Swanson makes a spectacular return to the screen as the wife — a glamorous actress who yields to the persuasions of a wealthy shipping magnate to become his bride.

1941 LOOKS AT 1916

THINGS have changed a lot in 25 years — yet there is much that is the same.

In 1916 it was Preparedness; in 1941, National Defense. But now the scale is bigger, the pace is faster. There was pressure on the telephone business then. The pressure is infinitely greater now. New training camps; new aviation fields; new munition plants; new shipyards and many other defense industries — all need telephones. Everyone is moving faster, and when a nation hurries, it does so by telephone. Southern Bell spent about $4,600,000 on new construction in 1916. It is spending over $51,000,000 in 1941.

The entire Southern Bell organization serving nine Southern states, is giving "first call" to Defense. We believe you would want it that way.

Adolphe Menjou plays the role of the father and Gloria Swanson makes a spectacular return to the screen as the wife — a glamorous actress who yields to the persuasions of a wealthy shipping magnate to become his bride.

But the magnate's very matter-of-fact son and daughter-in-law are shocked at the idea, and only to prevent a scandal do they help the pair to get married. The accepted fair for staying in the light imperils her domestic bliss, and the disturbance created in both households by a young singer when she sponsors leads to many of the hilarious complications of the story as well as to the riotous climax.

Information To Be Available This Year For Tourists

Hotel Commission Says Visitors To Be Given All Data Free

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6.—Those who visit Florida during the approaching winter season, especially those traveling by automobile, are going to find a wealth of information booths at almost every filling station, judging from reports received from all parts of the state by the office of the state hotel commission in Tallahassee.

It has long been recognized that the first Floridians with whom automobile travelers come in contact are the men who service their cars. Naturally, while the cars are being serviced, the occupants ask questions regarding roads, directions, distances, points of interest and, often, regarding accommodations to be found. For years individual managers of filling stations and garages have coached their operators to be able to answer those questions intelligently, with the result that their customers went away satisfied and reached their respective destinations in a happy frame of mind and feeling kindly toward the state and its people.

This year there has been a disposition on the part of merchants, associations and chambers of commerce, and even of city and county governments, to induce the managers of all auto service stations within their respective spheres of influence, to instruct their operators in the end that they may be able to answer intelligently any question a tourist might ask. Reports from Jacksonville, Ocala, Tampa, Lakeland, St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Fort Pierce, Lake Worth, West Palm Beach, and the smaller cities in the state indicate that the plan is being followed in those communities and a great army of publicity men is being formed for the benefit of the state as well as for the traveler. "This is one of the most constructive moves ever made and it will result in untold benefit for the state," was Hotel Commissioner Johnson's comment.

Special Week At Canal Point School

The week of November 9-15 is American Education Week in the schools of the nation. During this week the schools and people of the land are taking pride in some of the most important phases of our life which needs attention.

Patrons of the schools are urged to visit the schools during education week and become acquainted first hand with the workings of these foundations of American democracy. The Canal Point school will welcome visitors during next week, and will have open house for visitors next Friday afternoon.

Topics of interest during American Education Week are: Sunday, Nov. 9, Seeking World Order; Monday, Building Physical Fitness; Tuesday, Strengthening National Morale; Wednesday, Improving Economic Well-being; Thursday, Safeguarding School Support; Friday, Learning the Ways of Democracy; and Saturday, Enriching Family Life.

Patrons of the school will probably receive, through the pupils, terse statements on each of these topics daily from the school.

CANAL POINT P-T-A

The Canal Point P-T-A will meet Monday 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. All members are urged to be present. An interesting program has been arranged.

Food Sales To Be Closely Supervised

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6.—The very strict rules imposed by the state hotel commission, relating to the sanitary condition in which kitchens of restaurants and dining rooms and every other place in which food is prepared and served to the public, must be kept, are being rigidly enforced, according to a statement by Commissioner Hunter G. Johnson.

"The duties of the state hotel commission are prescribed by laws enacted by the state legislature," said Johnson, "and they were so made as to insure the most rigid enforcement of all circumstances with a view toward protecting the health, not only of visitors to the state but of citizens of the state who must patronize the thousands of eating places under our jurisdiction. Our deputy hotel commissioners who inspect those eating places are only carrying out the provisions of those laws."

"We have had a number of protests that our rules and regulations, based upon state laws, are too severe, but, unfortunately, the places are being enforced as the laws require. Those who have protested have seen the light and have made the required changes in their kitchens and dining rooms or at their lunch counters with special reference to cleanliness."

"Of the more than 11,000 eating places of all kinds thus far licensed in Florida, this season, approximately 500 have been requested by the deputy hotel commissioners to appear or close up. Most of them agreed to clean up and do so with no further action on the part of the deputies. Where the suggestions regarding improvement in sanitary conditions were not complied with in the time given, the places were promptly closed and their licenses revoked. The result has been that we are now finding a more ready response to our suggestions and I feel sure that tourists and others traveling about the state during the coming season will find clean and well-ordered kitchens as well as dining rooms, snack bars, lunch counters, and hamburger and hot dog stands, to be the universal rule."

"The BAKERS of the traveling public is one of the first considerations of the state hotel commission. We are having the whitehearted cooperation of the vast majority of all eaters to create comfort for the managers of big resort establishments to the most modern apartment house, rooming house, and boardinghousekeepers and from the purveyors of food from the largest restaurants to the smallest lunch stands. Those who will not cooperate and comply with the law must go out of business so far as Florida is concerned," said Mr. Johnson in conclusion.

Broward Plans More Farming

PORT LAUDERDALE, Nov. 6.—Expansion of Broward county's 35,000 acre "vegetable basket of the nation" to new limits never before touched is sought this week under a special national defense planting program now being prepared by B. E. Lawton, county farm agent.

The forecast of a month ago that the farm income of the area might touch $10,000,000 this season is being made as the U. S. Department of Agriculture calls upon the farmers to produce more and more staple foods.

Needed under the program is greater production of all types of winter vegetables, dairy products, beef cattle, chickens, eggs, turkeys and home garden produce, Lawton said.

Road 29 Work To Be Started

Indications that the surfacing of another section of Road 29 would be started soon is seen in a copy of a letter sent to Rep. J. H. Poles this week by J. H. Dowling. This letter was written by Mr. Dowling to J. W. Allen, division engineer at Bartow, instructing him to arrange for a survey of this road from the end of the present surfacing at Lakeland to Indian Prairie canal, a distance of seven miles, and called his attention to the fact that it would be necessary for him to request an allocation of funds to do this work.

The unsurfaced section of this road between Lakeland and Okechobee City is the only missing link in an important state road for fast trunk line travel between Miami and Jacksonville. Its importance cannot be overestimated and it is probable that the work will be completed as soon as possible. Moore Haven Democrat.

MISSIONARY HERE

Miss Van Monk, missionary nurse who is here to work among the migrants, is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waldschlager in Pahokee.

The forecast of a month ago that the farm income of the area might touch $10,000,000 this season is being made as the U. S. Department of Agriculture calls upon the farmers to produce more and more staple foods.

Needed under the program is greater production of all types of winter vegetables, dairy products, beef cattle, chickens, eggs, turkeys and home garden produce, Lawton said.

Glades Girls At Tallahassee

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6.—Seventy-four students from Pahokee county are registered at Florida State College for Women which is experiencing its highest fall enrollment in history with 1088 students. All 87 counties are represented at the state college this year when students from 18 other states as well as Brazil, the Canal Zone, Chile, Cuba, and Puerto Rico are enrolled.

The Glades students listed according to cities are as follows:

Belle Glade: Ann Kathleen Bartlett, Caroline Bertha Betzner, Doris Lyons Wilson.

Pahokee: Gloria John Dulany, Iris Jeanne Salvatore.

Canal Point: Helen Irene Fremd, Maids Juanita Harrington, Mary Jane Sims.

South Bay: Catherine 'Betty' Fawcett, Elsie Mae Willis.

Bean City: Kathryn Wilson.

GLADES GIRLS AT TALLY

Torch night was celebrated last week at Florida State College for Women. The ceremony consists of a parade by the freshmen carried by torches given them by the seniors to symbolize the taking over of the college customs and ideals from the freshmen.

Glades girls taking part in the ceremony were: Elsie Mae Willis, South Bay; Ann Bartlett, Bean City; Doris Wells of Belle Glade; Irene Fremd, Jane Sims, and Maids Harrington, Canal Point; and Iris Jeanne Salvatore of Pahokee.

Irene Fremd of Canal Point was one of the twenty girls from Florida State College for Women who is to be in the Who's Who of American Colleges for this year. Miss Fremd is president of the Tarpon club, member of the Women's Athletic board, and a student with unlimited cuts and a high scholastic rating. Miss Fremd as president of the Tarpon club will direct the annual swimming pageant to be given three times during Thanksgiving week.

Jane Sims of Canal Point, Gloria Dulany of Pahokee, and Doris Wells of Belle Glade were among the hostesses at the open house for all sororities held at the Alpha Chi Omega house on the campus at FSCW.

Maids Harrington of Canal Point was in charge of a party given by Delta Zeta sorority last week.

87 Cadets To Be Graduated

ARCADIA, Nov. 6. (FNS)—Eighty-seven cadets of the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs will graduate another group of 87 British flying students this week.

About 200 more British students are expected to arrive here during the week for special training at the institute. Both American and British fliers are trained here and the field barracks at the field now are completely filled with cadets. One hundred ten instructors are employed by the institute.

REGULAR PULLMAN SERVICE IS STARTED AT CLEWISTON

CLEWISTON.—Trail schedules have changed Monday morning with the arrival at 9 o'clock of the first buffet and Pullman service, arranged for through the efforts of Clarence R. Bitting, president of the United States Sugar Corporation, with the Atlantic Coast Line railroad. A Pullman coach on previous occasions has been attached to the regular train for Clewiston, but this is the first regular Pullman service inaugurated for the Everglades.

The increasing number of visitors to the sugarhouse each year, the expansion program proposed by the sugar corporation, and the proximity of the Riddis-McKay Aero college all combine to make the service needed.
